HAS DICK LOST HIS CUNNING?

In various parts of the country this year there seems to be a preconcerted effort on behalf of certain old-time g. o. p. standpatters to get back in to the political limelight. It might be supposed that here on the famous old Western Reserve, boasted home of enlightened public sentiment and advanced ideas, that the drubbing administered to politicians of the ilk of Charlie Dick a few years back should have been sufficient for all time to

Such seems not to have been the case.

Dick is a politician pure and simple. He remained in political quietude until he thought that his past was forgotten. Then, without the slightest display of penitence, or even asking forgiveness of the voters whom he misrepresented and betrayed, he bobs up, with all the flagrancy which characterized his movements when he was cracking the g. o. p. whip in Ohio, and has the brazen effrontery to ask the good people of the Fourteenth district to send him to congress.

The candidacy of Charlie Dick for congress, particularly at a time such as this, can be considered in no other way than as a joke, and, as we declared some weeks ago, a most serious joke were there the slightest likelihood of his being elected. Candidly, it would seem that Dick has lost much of the cunning that was attributed to him in those "good old days" when he carried out the behests of Mark Hanna and the latter's financial corruption barrel.

Of course, Dick will have the undivided support of those Republicans who worshiped at the Hanna shrine and cared not who was a candidate for office just so long as he had the Hanna brand. But the greatest part of the joke is that the Akron candidate apparently is deluding himself with the belief that he can put it over a new generation of voters who have sprung up since the time that he was prostituting the politics of this state.

We almost forgot to mention in this connection the admirable support of Dick by the g. o. p. organ in Medina county. The loyalty of its editor is sublime. But there is understood to be a reason outside of party fealty.

Following the York-Litchfield ball game on Friday, Sept. 28, the older pupils of the school gave a corn roast and camp-fire sing. The York pupils had as their guests the members of the school board and their families and the Litchfield team and rooters. More than 100 surrounded the camp fire and enjoyed the evening program of recitations and patriotic songs. Among those who took part were Franklin Harbour, cheer-leader, Edna Thomas. Alice Walsh, Blooma Ziegler, and Howard Town.

We have been so busy working for the 4th Liberty Loan, that we have had no time to write. Let's all get under this thing and put it across 100 percent., so Kaiser Bill may hear the death knell ringing for "Hunnism" and all his ambitions.

Our school teacher, Mr. Bart, has received a short leave of absence from going to camp on account of the disease there. We are hoping to be able to keep him for the school year at least.

Ladies' Aid of U. B. church met with Mrs. H. S. Koppes Thursday. Several from here attended the Wooster fair Wednesday.

The following men have been promoted to Lance Corporals: Huber Root A. B. Underwood, C. L. Cole, C. F. England and S. H. Brainard.

The B company's bulletin board is located in Brainard's Jewelry store window and all members are requested to give it the "once over" occasionally.

Company B spent Sunday at the Kennedy-Warner cabin and report one of the best times possible. Guards were placed on seven different posts and strict military dicipline was observed. A number of arrests were made and when "office hours" came the "brig" was nearly full. Major Randall presided at the courts martial and meted out the punishment, to the merriment of both prisoners and audience.

Company C will have something interesting next week.

Flour Easy

The restrictions on flour have been removed to such an extent that anyone can have practically all they want now. In exchanging wheat for flour, a 60 day supply is allowed and in order to apportion the flour to each farmer in accordance with the size of his family, the food administration has laid down this rule:—

That a farmer should be allowed the flour that one bushel of wheat would make for each member of his household or establishment as a 60 days supply. This means that if you average five at your table you are allowed about four sacks per 60 days and if you average ten you are entitled to about eight sacks, and so on. The rule for substitutes is easy for all—twenty pounds of substitutes to eighty of white flour is all that is required now. These rules are so liberal that we will hardly know that we are under any restrictions as regards flour.

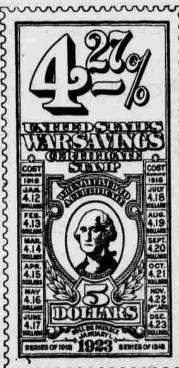

We have recently made large purchases of Magnificent Flour and are in position to supply any quantity both in a wholesale and retail way.
